Sittercity on NBC30 News Today

It's called Sittercity, a website with a four-step screening process to help parents and sitters nationwide find each other. The site specializes in babysitters and petsitters, but you can also find tutors, housesitters and elder companions.

If you're a parent looking for a sitter, just go to Sittercity.com and enter your ZIP code, and you can see the list of providers in your area.

Each sitter has a comprehensive profile -- and for just under ten bucks, you can do a background check on any potential sitter. You can also post a job so sitters can search the site and respond to your ad.

For pet parents there is a petsitting area, whether you need a dog walker while you're at work or someone to feed the cat and change the litter box while you're away.

To check out Sittercity for yourself, log onto our website at nbc30.com and click on "Mornings on NBC30."
