

REDBOOK

January 2005

By Rachelle Vander Schaaf

Find a Sitter – Stat!

Can't find a reliable babysitter when you need one? Log on to sittercity.com, where you have access to nearly 40,000 sitters – more than any other online babysitter-referral service – in 15 metro areas. For a one-time $40 membership fee (and $5 monthly thereafter), you get up-to-date information about sitters, including profiles, CPR qualifications, availability, and feedback from parents who have hired that person. Sittercity.com doesn't do screenings, though, so be sure to interview candidates before you hire one. Your zip code turned up zero sitters? Try califorsitters.com, which guarantees it will find you at least five potential sitters in your area (within 30 days of sign-up) or it will refund the one-time $40 fee.